A LA JESSE JAMES

A BIG FOUR TRAIN BOARDED NEAR CINCINNATI

BY A GANG OF ARMED AND MASKED TRAIN ROBBERS.

The Baggage-master Probably Fatally Wounded—The Engineer Has a Desperate Hand-to-Hand Encounter With One of the Desperadoes, and Succeeds in Throwing Him From the Train—Police and Detectives Busy.

CINCINNATI, June 11.—A daring attempt was made Friday night near Delhi, ten miles from this city, to rob the Big Four accommodation from Indianapolis, which arrives in this city at 10:40.

The train carries express matter, but the value of that carried Friday night did not amount to more than $1,000, which was locked up in the safe.

The train, which consisted of an engine, baggage car, smokers' and ladies' coach, left Indianapolis at 6 p. m., and was in charge of Conductor William Leffler, a veteran in the service. James Boyd was engineer; Henry Fisher, fireman; John Stickle, brakeman; Joseph Ketcham, baggage-master, and Henry J. Zimmerman, American express messenger. There were about forty passengers on board the train.

There were at least four engaged in the dastardly work. They wore masks. It is supposed they boarded the train at Delhi. A Mr. Stille, of Delhi, says he saw four men get on the front platform of the baggage car when the train halted at the depot.

When a short distance east of Delhi Ketcham saw four masked faces looking through the glass windows of the front door of the baggage car.

The villains began firing at once through the glass, at the same time entering the car. Ketcham, who is a brave man, of fine physique, seized his lamp and gallantly resisted the intruders. Three wounds—one in the back of the neck and two near the left groin—did their work, and Ketcham fell fatally wounded.

Express Messenger Zimmerman hurried from the car into the smoker and informed Conductor Leffler. He at once pulled the bell cord to stop the train. The signal, however, met with no response from the engineer.

The engineer had his hands full, being engaged in a desperate struggle with one of the robbers who had climbed over the tender and attacked him with a drawn revolver, threatening to fire if he did not yield. The engineer seized a monkey wrench and closed with the robber in a desperate hand-to-hand struggle. Several times the robber tried to fire, but his pistol would not go off. After a fearful struggle the weapon was captured. Fireman Fisher came to the assistance of Engineer Boyd, and the robber was hurled from the train at Rapid Run, which, during the struggle, was running at the rate of eighteen miles an hour.

Henry Fisher, the fireman, took charge of the engine while Engineer Boyd was wrestling with the robber. He finally came to Boyd's assistance, when he saw he was getting the worst of it.

The other baffled robbers escaped in some manner from the train near Trautman's. It had evidently been their intention to rob the express car. They may also have intended to hold up the passengers.

Joe Ketcham, the wounded baggage-master, was at once conveyed to his home, 119 Mill street. He was waited upon by Dr. C. S. Muscroft, Jr., the company's surgeon.

At 10 a. m. the doctors had removed the two bullets from the abdomen of the injured man, after a very skillful and anatomical operation. They were also compelled to remove eight inches of intestines which had been perforated by the bullets in twelve places. Ketcham held up well under the operation, but his recovery is doubtful. He is thought to be injured in a vital spot. The operation was performed by Drs. Muscroft and Dandridge, assisted by Drs. Oliver, Krieger and Thompson.

H. J. Zimmerman, the American Express company's messenger, who had a narrow escape from death at the hands of the masked robbers, was seen at his home, 273 West Fourth street. He had evidently passed a sleepless night, as he looked haggard, worn out and nervous.

The following is his story, as told in his own language:

"Ketcham and I were in the baggage car together. Just this side of Delhi I looked forward and discerned through the glass of the door three or four heads. So I said to Ketcham, 'There's a pack of bums on the front platform.' We walked forward and I opened the door. We were met by a regular volley of shots. Ketcham cried, 'I am shot,' and fell, while I leaned over to escape the next shots. I tried to get my revolver out of my pocket, but it caught on the lining. I saw at once, though, that they were too many for me, and I retreated through the back door into the next car, where I met the conductor and told him about it. He rang the bell, and when the train slowed up, we went forward and found Ketcham lying on the floor and the robbers gone.

"When the volley was fired which wounded Ketcham I noticed a man climbing over the tender toward the engine. Each of the fellows was masked with what seemed like a handkerchief tied over the face and mouth.

"I am not at liberty to disclose the amount of money there was in the safe, but it was very small, not worth the trouble of robbing."

Chief Deitsch was at once telegraphed to. Thirty officers were at once dispatched to the scene of the robbery, by special train, under the command of Lieut. Gill. Orders have been given to arrest all suspicious characters. Detectives Toker and Hudson are also at the scene. The whole country is aroused, and no efforts will be spared to capture the robbers. Tollkeeper Finney, on the Delhi pike, two miles east of Delhi, states that when the train passed the toll gate he saw a man run from the track up to the pike, cross it, and run up the ravine.

Officers Packer and Brookman attempted to arrest a suspicious character at the Banner house, corner of Third and Central avenue, but the fellow jumped from a second-story window and escaped.

S. H. Shultz, a bricklayer living on Price Hill, who is working on the new Catholic church, at Delhi, has furnished an important clue. While going before 6 a. m. through Moulton's woods near Sedamsville to catch a train, he discovered a big pool of blood in the pathway. He was sure it could not have been there when he went home by the same path the night before. Sedamsville is only four or five miles from Delhi, and the supposition is that the masked robbers had gone in that direction and that the pool of blood was the result of the injuries of the one who had been thrown from the train in a hand-to-hand encounter by Engineer Boyd. He may have been affected with bleeding at the nose or hemorrhage from his internal injuries.

Sergeant Newman and several patrolmen stationed at Delhi visited the spot, and think they have a strong clue to the robbers. They are now searching the woods and neighborhood.

A party of five suspicious looking characters were seen lying under a tree near Delhi station all Friday afternoon. They were seen by Ed. Russ, of Taylorsport, Ky., who said they were better dressed than tramps usually dress. All were smooth-faced except one, who had a light mustache. They were also seen by Mrs. John Seible and John Trowell and Walter Coloway, two village boys. They would be able to identify them on sight.

The police officers found a tin bottle and a flat bowlder under the tree where the parties had been seen Friday afternoon. The bowlder looked smooth as though the parties had sharpened their knives on it.

Four suspicious looking strangers, about half an hour after the attempted train robbery, inquired of Frank Kumpsh, a saloon-keeper near Delhi, when a train would come along on the Ohio & Mississippi railroad. He informed them and saw them board the train which came along about half an hour later. He thinks he would recognize them again.

The citizens of North Bend, Addyston and the neighboring towns are greatly excited and are scouring the country for the train robbers. Even the farmers for miles around are assisting in the hunt. Some of the police and detectives have returned to the city, while the rest are searching the entire country. There is talk of a big reward being offered for the capture of the robbers. The citizens of Delhi are strangely said to be taking little interest in the affair and there is no excitement there.

A clue has been found as to the direction taken by the train robbers.

Friday night between 11 and 12 five farmers were coming along Delhi pike, about a quarter of a mile the other side of Delhi, driving separate teams, when they were "helped up" by four young fellows. The robbers said they wanted nothing but money. They obtained only seven cents from one of party. The man who was relieved of the money hitched up his team by the roadside and went back in the direction the robbers went and saw them get into a skiff and row across the river.

Four men have been arrested at Aurora, Ind., who are supposed to be the train robbers. They could give no good account of themselves.

John Taff, bridge watchman about one mile and a half west of Delhi, at 9 o'clock Friday night was attacked by five men, who took away his revolver and knife, and threw him into a ditch. The men proceeded in the direction of Delhi.

ON ACCOUNT OF RELIGION.

The Detroit Catholics Revive the Old Church Troubles.

DETROIT, Mich., June 11.—Two years and one-half ago Father Kolaskinski, pastor of the Polish Catholic church of St. Albertus, was accused of diverse offenses and deposed by Bishop Borgess. A series of riots followed, in which some blood was shed, and the whole town was kept in a high pitch of excitement for many weeks. Kolaskinski finally went to Dakota. He left behind him here between 5,000 and 6,000 adherents, who formed a kind of band and vowed not to be content till their priest was restored to them. Last week it was announced that Bishop Borgess would officiate in St. Albertus church June 24. This caused the Kolaskinskians intense uneasiness.

Having sworn that the bishop who deprived them of their beloved pastor, should never officiate in his old place, they sent for Kolaskinski, who arrived yesterday. He was given a remarkable reception. Over 6,000 Poles, one-half of them women, fought with each other to get near the priest, kissed the hem of his garments, the ground on which he walked, and prostrated themselves before him. A lot of women, sobbing as if their hearts would break, lifted their idol upon their shoulders and bore him to the parish school house, where they held a grand and disorderly levee. Kolaskinski says he will be reinstated by Bishop Borgess' successor. A collision is expected to occur between the Kolaskinskians and Dembrowskies, who are the bishop's supporters.

TWO PRIZE FIGHTS.

"Swipes the Newboy" Knocked Out. Jack Ryan Ditto.

JAMAICA, L. I., June 11.—"Swipes the Newboy" and George Young, of Brooklyn, fought eighteen rounds near this place. Young won first blood in the first round. Swipes broke his left arm in the eighteenth round, and being unable to respond to a call of time the fight was awarded Young.

Jack Ryan Defeated.

NEW BRIGHTON, L. I., June 11.—Joe O'Day, of Brooklyn, and Jack Ryan, of Providence, fought five rounds. Ryan was knocked out. Both men were badly punished.

Sparring Match Arranged.

BOSTON, June 11.—Johnny Griffin, the Braintree feather-weight, and Jack Kenny, of New York, have been matched to spar with regulation gloves, Queensberry rules, the match to come off here June 20.

Railroad Appointment.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Mr. P. S. Ennis has been appointed general passenger and ticket agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway with headquarters at Chicago. The appointment will take effect June 11, 1888.

CHICAGO'S AUDITORIUM

ALMOST READY FOR THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Rapid Progress Made in the Last Few Days—The Hotel Accommodations. Where the Delegates Will Be Quartered. Scheme of the Prohibitionists.

CHICAGO, June 11.—The auditorium building will practically be ready for the occupancy of the Republican convention Tuesday night, the time set for inspection and test of the lighting apparatus. The rapid strides made during the past week have got the preparations to a point where nothing remains but the platforming of two sections of the first balcony along the sides, each section of about fifty feet in length, and the placing of the chairs in these sections, in the parquet, and on the platform for the distinguished guests.

The chairs for these parts are all heaped in in the parquet, however, and only used when needed to be arranged. The chairs in all the galleries are in their places. The ceiling directly over the parquet has been decorated with tri-colored hunting and large stars, and the work of decorating the rest of the hall is almost completed.

One looking at the mammoth auditorium from the speaker's stand, sees at the same time a roominess about the whole arrangement which argues in a most favorable contrast to the sardine-in-a-box capacity which characterized the St. Louis convention. From the first balcony there are thirteen exits, so distributed that no seat is more than twenty feet from an exit. The rest of the auditorium has a similarly lavish distribution of the means of egress.

In order to allay the apprehensions of strangers that they may not be able to secure accommodations in Chicago during the convention, a morning paper prints the following:

Over twenty thousand people can be taken care of by the two hundred and more hosteleries, over and above the usual number of guests. Fifteen of the principal hotels can accommodate 11,175 convention visitors, and fully 100,000 more guests can be provided for by the 200 smaller hotels in the city, and an equal number in the boarding houses.

So far as known at present the delegations have quartered themselves as follows: At the Grand Pacific, the delegates from New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire, Ohio, Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Arkansas, Idaho, Washington, Dakota, Louisiana, Nebraska, Colorado and Oregon.

At the Palmer house, the delegates from Pennsylvania, Arizona, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Nevada, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Virginia and Wyoming.

At the Leland, the delegates from Massachusetts, Vermont, California, Utah, New Mexico and Delaware.

At the Sherman house, the delegates from Alabama, Maryland and South Carolina. The delegations from Texas, North Carolina and Mississippi are expected at the Sherman house, and the delegations from Indiana and Michigan are claimed by both the Palmer house and the Grand Pacific.

How the Prohibitionists Will Work.

CHICAGO, June 11.—About June 15, says the Elgin News, seven or eight outfits, consisting of a tent capable of holding 500 persons, a wagon and a team of horses, two or three good talkers, and perhaps a quartet of singers, will start out and visit every portion of the state. It is expected to travel across the country and to pitch the tents wherever the field appears to be promising.

Three of these outfits will form circuits in northern Illinois, remaining several days in a place, the speakers remaining with each meeting but two or three days. The persons employed in this work will all be paid. The outfits are already bought and paid for. Prohibition organizers are confident that there will not be a county in the state when November comes that will not have a full ticket in the field.

They assert that there will not be an elective office to be filled this fall in the entire state that they will not have a nominee for. This, they say, will be in marked contrast with 1884, when only about forty counties in the state had tickets in the field, and will, they claim, greatly increase the vote, adding local interest to the election.

The Harrison and Gresham Factions.

CHICAGO, June 11.—A News special from Indianapolis says: The Harrison club, the organization that will give the Indiana candidate his most enthusiastic support at Chicago, determined Friday night to send between two and three thousand men to the convention, and a movement was started to raise funds for that purpose. Letters from the north and south were read, showing that Harrison's candidacy was growing stronger.

On the other hand, the supporters of Gresham are claiming that he is gaining strength in Indiana, and assert confidently that he will receive several votes after the pledges to Harrison have been made good on the first ballot. The Hon. W. H. Calkins, the leader of Gresham's Indiana supporters returned from the east Friday and reports that Gresham's candidacy is rapidly growing stronger in that region.

Headly Interviewed.

NEW YORK, June 11.—A Sun reporter called on ex-Governor Headly, of Ohio, and asked him how he was pleased with the nomination of Thurman. "I've got nothing whatever to say on that subject," said Mr. Headly.

"Don't you intend to vote for him?" "I am going to vote," said the ex-governor, impressively, "for the presidential electors; they won't let me vote for the men themselves. I was opposed to his nomination from the start, and did all I could to prevent it, and if I had a week longer to work I would have prevented it."

"Then you don't think his name lends strength to the ticket?" "I've got nothing to say about that. I use white handkerchiefs though, and don't go in for bandanas or snuff."

A Divided Delegation.

BOSTON, June 11.—Nearly all the Massachusetts delegates to Chicago and several members of the state central committee dined together in this city yesterday and formally discussed candidates. An effort was made to unite the delegation on some one man, but the attempt failed. The delegation is divided in its preferences between Gresham, Sherman, Harrison and Depew. It was thought that Depew might become the general choice, but a may be said authoritatively that the delegation cannot be united in his favor. The delegates failed to make choice of a chairman, and this matter, with that of the choice of a candidate, will be further considered soon after having arriving at Chicago.

Voorhees and Gray.

CHICAGO, June 11.—A Tribune special from Terre Haute, Ind., says: Governor Gray, who was here Friday to deliver diplomas at the state normal school, met Senator Voorhees, who had just returned from St. Louis. Last evening they held an excited but friendly conversation in front of the hotel, which attracted a great deal of attention. The senator was using emphatic language and gestured wildly, while the governor was equally as full of protestations. Neither would talk politics for newspaper use, but enough of their conversation was overheard to make known the fact that they were proving to each other that this, that and the other politician, was a liar, etc.

Dorsey Denies It.

DENVER, Col., June 11.—Stephen W. Dorsey has arrived in this city. He denies that he intended to go to the Chicago convention and "knife" certain prominent candidates for the Republican nomination, and says there is not a candidate named that he would not willingly support.

In New York on Business.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Senator John Sherman and Frank Hiseock are at the Fifth Avenue hotel. Mr. Sherman declines to talk politics and explains his presence in town as for business only.

THE CHESAPEAKE OYSTERMEN.

Inhuman Cruelty of the Officers of the Dredgers.

BALTIMORE, June 11.—Horrible barbarism is being proven against the captains of Chesapeake bay dredgers. It is shown that in many cases the unhappy crews have been so beaten and ill treated that men have been glad to throw themselves into the water and perish by drowning rather than at the hands of the brutal slave driving captains armed with knives or clubs.

In a case before the grand jury of the United States district court a scathing report has been made, the text of which is as follows:

"It has been in evidence before us that gross injustice is practiced upon the crews of oyster-dredging boats in the Chesapeake bay its tributaries; that these crews are often beaten with shovels, ax handles, iron levers, knocked down with the fist and kicked, tied to crank holders, made to whip one another, made to work when unable to do so on account of sickness, sometimes at the point of a pistol, and otherwise brutally ill-treated, making their life intolerable. We have had evidences that corpses were seen floating in the waters in the neighborhood of the dredging grounds, creating a suspicion that the crime of murder may have been committed upon these dredging boats.

"After much careful investigation we find that it is next to impossible to fasten the death of these men upon the guilty party, owing to collusion between owners, captains and mates of said vessels through motives of self-interest. We have had evidence that the treatment by masters, captains and mates of dredging vessels of the crews has been so cruel that some would endanger their lives by swimming from vessels to the shore in order to escape.

"In one instance a man jumped overboard and was drowned, and it was believed committed suicide, so terrible was the punishment inflicted upon him. We have had testimony before us that men and boys were 'shanghaied' and induced to sign contracts by false representations and a number of them were foreigners who, owing to their lack of knowledge of our language, were taken advantage of and that men and boys were taken down the bay and held long after their contract had expired, often badly fed and not paid their wages due them by contract, not allowed to go home or have communication with their family or friends until such time as might suit their employers.

"Now in view of this testimony before us, we, the members of the grand inquest of the United States for the district of Maryland, do most earnestly and respectfully suggest to the honorable court the necessity of calling the attention of the United States authorities to these offenses, so that its utmost powers under the laws may be exerted to have such practices prevented in the future by throwing around these poor people such safeguards as are possible."

The Cincinnati Press Club.

CINCINNATI, June 11.—The press quarters at the centennial buildings have been completed and were formally dedicated Saturday afternoon. The quarters present a magnificent appearance, and are a credit to the centennial commissioners, who designed them, as well as the profession who is to occupy them during the coming exposition. More than one thousand editors were invited to the dedication. About two hundred visiting editors were present. In the evening a grand banquet was given at the Gibson house, at which there were regular toasts and a general good time.

Actious of a Missouri Mob.

KANSAS CITY, June 11.—Governor Martin has received a dispatch from the sheriff of Stevens county stating that a body of armed men have taken possession of the town of Hugoton, and have driven him out of the county seat. He adds that it is impossible to keep the peace with the force at his command, and calls for a company of militia to be sent to his assistance at once.

The Christian Scientist's Goss Free.

BOSTON, June 11.—The grand jury for Middlesex county, which reported yesterday, found no bill against Mrs. Abbie H. Corner, "the Christian scientist," of West Medford, charged with manslaughter in causing the death of her daughter, Mrs. Hattie A. James, by neglecting to provide proper medical assistance at the time of her confinement on the 18th of March.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
of New York.For Vice President,
ALLAN G. THURMAN, of Ohio.AUGUST ELECTION, 1888.
For Sheriff,
JOHN W. ALEXANDER.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Comments of the Press and Opinions
Of Prominent Men on the Democratic National Ticket.

In response to a serenade by the Thurman Club, of Columbus, and the Randall Club, of Philadelphia, the "Old Roman" delivered a characteristic speech. There is a great deal of vitality in the old man yet, and his Democracy is just what it was fifty years ago. Two years ago Senator Edmunds, from his seat in the United States Senate, said of Allen G. Thurman: "He is the ablest and the grandest, the bravest and the truest Democrat in the Union." The tribute was valuable because it was the one single and solitary compliment the cold heart of George F. Edmunds ever paid to his fellow-man, and here is what that "ablest, grandest, bravest and truest Democrat" says of Grover Cleveland: "If there is a brave, honest, upright, courageous, patriotic man on the face of God's earth, Grover Cleveland is such a man."—Louisville Times.

It is as good a platform as was ever adopted by a convention; clear, straightforward, without quibble or double-dealing. What it declares concerning promises redeemed is true; what it promises the ticket guarantees. Now let us see what the Republicans can agree to at Chicago. If they speak of the past, they must confess to pledges broken by them. If they speak of the future, this Democratic platform warns them to greater honesty than they have practiced in recent years.—New York Herald.

That ticket cannot be beaten. It will be useless for the Republican managers to discuss abstract questions of political economy in the hope to confuse the public mind as to the real issue of the campaign. The people understand the question before them. They know that there is no question of free trade in this contest. They understand that the tariff issue is simply between the Republican system, which imposes special tariff duties for the benefit and enrichment of individuals or corporations, taking money out of the pocket of the people far beyond the amount necessary for the purpose of the Government.—New York Star.

It was a singular piece of good fortune for the Democracy that couples the name of its most sentimental idol with that of its man of destiny on the ticket. Of Allen G. Thurman it is almost impossible even for his political opponents to speak without figuratively taking off their hats in honest appreciation of his ability, integrity and loveableness.—Chicago News.

That the name of Thurman will strengthen the national ticket will not be denied by his most confirmed partisan opponent. Every vote that revengeful monopolies will throw against him will bring a thousand suffrages that no lesser candidate could have commanded.—Chicago Herald.

"Thurman's name will make California Democratic beyond a shadow of a doubt. I've been working for the past twenty years to have the Old Roman nominated for President and at last, thank God, he's got the next best thing. The ticket will sweep the Pacific Slope. The platform is sound Democratic doctrine, and will be endorsed by the people."—Congressman Biggs, of California.

"New York will certainly cast her vote for the Democratic ticket."—Congressman Stahlnecker, of New York.

Good Advice.

The success of the Democracy is first above all things, and any Democrat who withholds his assistance in bringing about such a result is recreant to his duty to his party. The tariff is a small thing compared with other great and vital issues at stake, and no Democrat should be willing, because he differs with the policy of the party on one issue, to lend his aid to its overthrow. Let every Democrat do his duty, and there will be no occasion to regret the result.—Atlanta Constitutionalist.

Good advice, every word of it. The Democrats of this Congressional district should consider well the first sentence especially. The defeats of the past two elections was caused more by the action of those who thought more of self than they did of party success. But let us bury the past, forget our individual preferences and go in to win. If we do this, victory will be ours.

Stock, Field and Farm.

Very little tobacco has been set in Robertson County to date.

At Georgetown, mules are quoted at from $70 to $165, according to height.

A Nicholas County farmer has a bed of tobacco plants for which he refused $100.

A Paris dealer sold several hundred bushels of wheat last week at 93 cents a bushel. Another party sold 700 bushels at 86 cents.

Farmers can provide themselves with abundant stock feed by sowing a few acres of millet. They should remember their experience the past winter.

Quite a number of farmers throughout Central Kentucky got tired waiting for rain and hauled water the past week or two and made a tobacco season. Some of the farmers in Mason County did likewise.

The hay crop of 1887 was something like forty-five million tons. For the past seven years the hay crop has averaged a value of about $388,000,000 a year. The hay crop exceeds the cotton crop in value, and Southern farmers are now paying more attention to it than ever before.—Exchange.

Sloan-Dryer Nuptials.

The marriage of Miss Mamie Sloan and Mr. C. A. Dryer took place at the residence of the bride's parents in Cincinnati last Thursday evening at 5 o'clock. It was a most beautiful and impressive scene. The bride stood in a bower of palm trees and smilax, and was a lovely vision in her wedding robe of soft, white silk, enveloped with the bridal veil. She was attended by Miss Ritter, of Indianapolis, and Miss Ray, of Lafayette, Ind. Both maids were dressed in white India silk covered with tulle, and carried pink rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. Dryer will be at home in Indianapolis after September 1st, in a beautiful home which Mr. Dryer is now preparing for his bride. Mrs. Sloan, the mother of the bride, was before her marriage a Maysville lady, the daughter of Mr. Mat Breeden.

The wedding was attended by many guests from a distance. The many presents received attested the popularity of the bridal pair.

Kentucky's Rainfall.

"On the first day of May," says an exchange, "the rainfall in Kentucky for the current year beginning January 1 should have been 24 inches; it was but 14 inches. Last year for the time mentioned it was 17 inches. The average rainfall of the State for a number of years previous to 1884 was 48 inches; last year it was 35, and this year it promises to be but 28, the calculation being based upon former experience that half the rainfall of the year is completed May 1. When it is remembered that irrigation must be resorted to for agricultural purposes in countries where the annual rainfall is less than 25 inches, the outlook for a crop this year is not at all promising."

This "dull thud" is no longer the fashion in New York. The execution of criminals will hereafter be done by electricity. A feature of the law is, that "no account of the details of any such execution beyond the statement of the fact that such convict was, on the day in question, duly executed according to law at the prison, shall be published in any newspaper."

AN EXCITING SCENE.

An Affray Between Deputy Marshal Dawson and Rees Wallingford. A Shot Fired, but No One Hurt.

The sharp, whip-like crack of a pistol shortly before 11 o'clock this morning attracted an immense throng of people to the corner of Court and Second streets. Excitement ran high for a few minutes, but when it was learned no one had been seriously hurt the crowd soon dispersed. The shot was fired by Deputy Marshal Dawson and was aimed at Reese Wallingford, of Chester. The ball missed Wallingford and striking the upper left corner of a lower window of the State National Bank—Court street side—passed through and crossing somewhat diagonally entered the opposite wall near the ceiling.

When asked about the cause of the trouble Mr. Dawson said Wallingford had cursed his (Dawson's) daughter yesterday. He met Wallingford in front of Allen, Hall & Co.'s this morning and informed him he didn't want to hear of his using such language again. One word brought on another and the two soon came to blows. Wallingford had a buggy whip in his hand, and struck Dawson two or three times on the head with the large end of it.

The third or fourth blow cut quite a severe gash in the back part of the officer's head. At this point Dawson pulled his pistol and attempted to shoot, but at the first attempt the weapon missed fire. The second attempt was more successful, but the ball went wide of its mark. Bystanders here interfered and put an end to what promised to be a serious affair.

Wallingford was placed under arrest by Captain Hedlin. The matter will be investigated by the Mayor at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Maysvilles Versus Manchester.

The Maysville Ball Club gave the Manchesterers their first defeat this season last Saturday on the grounds near the depot in a closely-contested and well-played game. Outside of sending three men to first base on balls, and Sutherland's bad throw to second, the fielding of the home club was perfect. The game was the quickest ever played here, occupying only one hour and forty minutes. Cox, of the home team, was hit hard throughout the game, and it was owing to the splendid character of his support that the Manchester score was kept down to so small a figure. Parry's capturing of several flies in center field deserves especial mention. The back-stop work of Moran was good.

One of the incidents of the game was in the sixth inning when Moran was hit on the mask by a foul tip, cutting a gash in his forehead, and he had to retire until liniment was applied by Dr. Sam Wade-worth.

About two hundred and fifty people witnessed the game, and there was no lack of enthusiasm throughout. It was the first appearance of the Manchesterers here this season and the impression formed of them was that they were a perfect set of gentlemen, but could not play ball with our boys. Score: Maysvilles 14, Manchester 10.

That Scott Medal.

Colonel George S. Jones, of Georgetown, O., special pension examiner for that district, was in town this morning. He is the possessor of the handsome gold medal presented by Virginia to General Winfield Scott for distinguished services in the Mexican war. The medal was taken from the Military Institute at Lexington, Va., by some Union soldiers during the late war. An Adams County (Ohio) man brought it home with him, and it was used by his children as a plaything for years. A farmer named Howell bought it for 50 cents, who afterwards gave it to his son, Wm. Howell, at present a barber in Wm. Tront's shop, this city. A few months ago young Mr. Howell sold the medal to Colonel Jones for 75 cents. No one seemed to recognize its worth until Colonel Jones got hold of it. It is made of Guinea gold and is very valuable. The present owner thinks of placing it in the Smithsonian or some other institute for preservation.

Popular Lectures.

For some time past Rev. R. B. Garrett has been arranging for a course of lectures to be given here for the benefit of the new Baptist Church. He has secured the promise of several of the most celebrated lecturers in this country to speak here in the near future.

The first of the series will be given on Thursday evening, June 28th, by Rev. P. S. Henson, D. D., of Chicago. Bishop J. H. Vincent, himself a popular lecturer, says of Dr. Henson that "he is the finest platform speaker in America." The subject will be announced later. If this enterprise is reasonably encouraged by our people, they may expect to hear some of the most talented and eloquent men of the country. Among the names on the list are Drs. Willits and Broadus, of Louisville, and others.

STATED meeting of Mason Lodge No. 342, F. and A. M., this (Monday) evening at 8 o'clock. Work in M. M. degree. JAMES H. SALLER, W. M. JAMES K. LLOYD, Secretary.

THE Baptist Church, at its business meeting Thursday night, passed a resolution inviting the General Association of Kentucky Baptists to meet in Maysville next June. It has been thirty years or more since the body met in this city.

LIFE insurance is especially valuable for professional men whose family's income is cut off at their death. Dr. Agnew, who recently died in N. Y., left for his family a policy for $25,000 in the Equitable. Jos. F. BRODRICK, Agent.

MR. AND MRS. THRO. MACHENHEIMER, of Ogden City, Utah, arrived Saturday on a visit to friends and relatives in this city. They accompanied the remains of W. B. McDonough to Cincinnati last week, and attended the burial Thursday.

CAPTAIN TURNER will open the Arlington Hotel, Blue Licks, on the 10th of this month. Extended preparations will be made for entertaining a large crowd there this season. Governor Buckner and family, and some of the State Guards will be there in July or August.

THE North Middletown correspondent of the Paris Kentuckian says: "Mrs. Jennie Clarke and mother left for Maysville last week. They will take an extended trip through Indiana and other States, and will be gone during all the vacation. Mrs. Clarke will be at her old place, in the Art Department, when school opens in September."

THE J. P. LERDON Democratic Club of Aberdeen organized with a membership of one hundred. They will uniform themselves with white plug hats, badges, canes and other suitable equipments. J. P. Purdon, Mayor of Aberdeen, was unanimously elected President; Vice Presidents, W. M. Smith, C. H. Gates and Thomas McDaniel. James J. Small was elected Treasurer and W. P. McQuilkin Secretary.

GEORGE HARMAN, a prominent citizen and stock breeder of Hillsboro, Fleming County, was kicked to death by his large Norman horse Friday. Mr. Harman had gone into the stable for the purpose of bridling his horse, and while he was straightening out his bridle the animal gave a sudden and powerful kick with both feet, striking Harman on the body, producing almost instant death. The horse is noted for viciousness.

THE marriage of Mr. John Erion to Miss Daisy, daughter of Elder J. S. Sweeney, took place at the Christian Church at Paris, Thursday night, Elder Sweeney officiating. The groom formerly lived at Germantown. The Bourbon News says: "After the ceremony, the happy pair partook of a lunch at the residence of the bride's father, after which they repaired to their residence on Vine street, to start to house-keeping."

THE Winchester Democrat says: "The State Sunday School of the Christian Church meets in Winchester June 19th, and 20th and 21st. On the 19th, 'Children's Day,' it is estimated that there will be over one thousand children come in on excursions from Maysville, Cynthiana, Paris, Lexington, Mt. Sterling, Richmond and many other places. They will bring baskets with them well filled. Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland have kindly tendered them the use of their spacious yard in which to spread their dinners."

CLARK COUNTY voted a subscription of $100,000 to the Kentucky Union Railroad Company Saturday by a majority of about 600. A large vote was polled, especially in the country precincts. By the terms of the proposition the company must run an independent line of road from Winchester to a point 15 miles beyond Clay City, in Powell County, in one year, and must finish it to the coal fields in Breathitt County in two years. The company has deposited $10,000 with the County Treasurer as a forfeit. The Louisville, Cincinnati and Virginia Road, to be built from Winchester into Eastern Kentucky, will probably offer a similar proposition in a few days.

THE BULLETIN'S Sand Hill correspondent says: "Asa Barkley, who was arrested in Manchester a short time since for cutting Sylvester Moore with intent to kill, was at the examining trial before W. H. Cooley, Esq., held in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the next Circuit Court at West Union. The evidence adduced at the trial plainly showed that Barkley was acting in self-defense, and he should have been discharged, and would have been had he not been a Kentuckian. A citizen of Kentucky stands a very poor chance of receiving justice at the hands of Manchester officials. They want the Kentucky man's money, and if the 'bums' are not successful in obtaining it Manchester law (?) comes to their aid, and the unfortunate fellow generally goes forth shorn in any event."

WAITING FOR THE CRISIS.

PUBLIC GAZE CONTINUALLY ON THE FRENCH SOCIALISTS.

France to Furnish Russia With Cannon and Ammunition—Estimates of the Cost of Austria's Preparations—The Wall of the London Telegraph—Foreign.

PARIS, June 11.—The Socialists of France, while waiting for the crisis that they confidently expect, manage to keep the apprehensive gaze of the public turned continually towards them. Mr. Joffrin shares with Clemenceau the honor of being the projector of a society bearing the proud title of "The Rights of Man," and his redness is considered of a more sanguinary hue than that of his coadjutor.

A conversation with him at the office of La Justice reveals the fact that the creed of the society is a very simple one, being merely that of inculcating the duty of subverting the existing government, whatever it may be, consistently with their principles. M. Joffrin and his friends seem to be rather more exasperated against the republic than if it were a despotism, and to cherish a more deadly hatred for their compatriots who hold different political opinions from their own than from Bismarck and his countrymen.

M. Joffrin is especially indignant at the failure to include theological students in the three years compulsory army service. He is disposed to think that this favor shown the church will prove an important factor in bringing about the long-looked-for crisis. He sees nothing in the choosing of a clerical career, but a desire to be sheltered from bullets by a black frock, and would make use of the most heroic measures to place them in the front in case of hostilities.

The name of the opposition would-be saviour of his country, Boulanger, produces symptoms of rabies on the part of this sincere patriot, and sooner than submit to any predominance of that volatile gentleman, it is probable that Joffrin and his party would prefer to see France again under the heel of her eastern neighbor. That the ex-general aims at a dictatorship is their firm belief, but they do not credit him with the capacity to retain the enticement but perilous position, believing rather that he would prove a second general monk and restore monarchy to France.

They have a hope, however, that the spectacle of the reconstructed battle will afford an object lesson of patriotism that will animate the breasts of the beholders with the spirit of their forefathers who destroyed it. It may not prove a bad idea to recall that stronghold of tyrannous monarchy as a warning to the present generation.

Russia Still Preparing.
LONDON, June 11.—The French government has consented to allow the Brouge factory to supply Russia with cannon, projectiles and melinite.

Notwithstanding the magnitude of Russia's war preparation, she evidently does not consider herself ready without a supply of the new French combustible, whose virtue is to explode more slowly than gunpowder, and to operate as a continuing force that throws projectiles to a much greater distance than gunpowder. Germany has an explosive of somewhat the same nature.

The Moscow Gazette, in discussing the affairs of Germany, especially Emperor Frederick's health, says: "It is time for each power to clearly specify its future policy. A community of interests between Russia and France is the logical sequence of the general political situation."

It is merely a polite and mild way of saying that all the nations are fully advised of the nature of Russia's claims in the east, as well as of the fact that since midwinter she has been making ready to enforce them. In the next step which Russia is about to make, she particularly desires to know if any other nation than Austria expects to enter the ring against her; that is, whether Germany will come to the aid of her ally, Austria, and accomplish thereby a Franco-Russian alliance against the central states, or declare that she has no interest in and will not resort to arms on account of the eastern question.

Cost of Austria's Preparation.
VIENNA, June 11.—The Neue Freie Presse says that the budget about to be submitted to the delegations show an increased expenditure of 5,000,000 florins, of which 4,250,000 is absorbed by the war budget; 13,000,000 florins is asked for repeating rifles and 4,000,000 for army organization. An extraordinary special credit of the war department amounts to 47,250,000 florins, of which 16,000,000 florins has already been expended, and 3,750,000 will be used for future requirements, the balance being reserved for urgent necessities.

Still Crying War.
LONDON, June 11.—The London Daily Telegraph continues to declare that war is imminent and to urge upon the government defensive preparation. It wants the naval and military departments examined by a commission and a report made to parliament. It publishes statistics showing a need for five more ironclads and 120 fast sailing cruisers.

Foreign Notes.
It is semi-officially stated that England has signed the Suez canal convention as modified by the porte.

Boodlers have been discovered in the London board of public works, and sensational trials are likely to follow.

The British Indian government is considering the question of a special loan for the purpose of remedying deficiencies in the frontier defenses.

The London Chronicle says that negotiations are on foot between France and Germany to lessen as much as possible the harassing aspects of the German passport edict.

The Russian tax on petroleum hitherto placed on oil from America has been extended to petroleum from all countries, the importation of American having almost ceased.

The Roman chamber of deputies have agreed to abolish capital punishment, and, after an exciting debate, almost unanimously rejected the bishops' petition to eliminate from the penal code bill the articles imposing penalties for abuses committed by the clergy in the exercise of their functions.

General Sherman Better.
New York, June 11.—Gen. Sherman, who has been confined to his room with an attack of rheumatism, is somewhat improved and expects to be out in a few days.

THE NOO YOR SINN POO.
A Weekly Illustrated Chinese Newspaper
Started in New York.

New York, June 11.—An illustrated Chinese weekly paper, called the Noo Yor Sinn Poo (or the New York Chinese News), to be published at 10 Chatham square by a Chinese company, with Messrs. Wong Chin Foo and Hong Zing, late Chinese editors of a Hong Kong weekly, as joint editors, has made its appearance in this city.

It is the first pictorial Chinese journal ever published. The illustrations will treat of American civilization as viewed by genuine Chinese artists. The paper is to be issued every Saturday and sold at five cents a copy. The first cartoon, which appears in to-day's issue, represents the young emperor of China upon his throne surrounded by his mandarins, sitting in judgment upon a band of Americanized Chinamen, who have been driven out of this country by the recent Chinese law.

The Indignant Celestial monarch insists upon their immediate return to the "nation of their choice, the United States," and when informed that they cannot return, he orders that they be flogged as renegades.

Female Forger Arrested.

New York, June 11.—Miss Alice Woodhall, who was extradited from England on a charge of forging the signature of John Gill, to $55,000 worth of United States bonds, has been discharged by United States Commissioner Osborne. President Brinckerhoff and Cashier Chase, of the Butchers' and Drovers' National bank, who saw John Gill sign the bonds, and acknowledged the transfer, besides putting the bank's seal on the bonds, testified to these facts and the prisoner was discharged at once. Miss Woodhall was subsequently arrested on another charge of forgery and held for hearing on Monday next.

The Behring Sea Troubles.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 11.—Queer stories are floating around regarding the Behring sea troubles. It is reported that pending a settlement of the question, Canadians will be given equal privileges with American fishermen in the close waters there. This is denied by the fisheries department, which will issue warning to the collector of customs at Victoria, B. C.

Minnesota Has Millions of 'Em.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 11.—The rumors of grasshoppers in Otter Tail county have been confirmed by an investigation just completed by Professor Luger, of the state experimental farm. There are millions of the pests hatching out in the neighborhood of Perham, and not only that but already there are many of them big enough to jump.
